

New twists on wine lists

Tom Wallace, Star Tribune

In an effort to keep people eating out, many restaurants are looking for more inexpensive wines and more by-the-glass options. Sea Change's Megan Kordus displays an approachable and affordable Portuguese red, Quinta do Alqueve, that the restaurant sells for $23 a bottle, or $7 a glass.